4 Basic requirements

4.1 Uniqueness

Each consumer product recall activity shall only have one consumer product recall numbering, and a consumer product recall numbering only uniquely represents a consumer product recall activity.

4.2 Stability

Recall affected by investigation: The competent department believes that the consumer product is defective after a defect investigation, and the manufacturer has no objection and implements a recall.

Ordered recall: The manufacturer shall, but does not recall the confirmed defective product, and the competent department makes the act of requesting the manufacturer to implement the recall.

- c) Consumer product type, where the category code of the code structure specified in GB/T 36431 is adopted; it is represented by a two-digit Arabic numeral. The code is compiled according to Appendix A.
- d) Acceptance unit, including national market supervision and management departments and provincial market supervision and management departments, which are represented by a two-digit Arabic numeral. This document uses the administrative division codes specified in GB/T 2260 and GB/T 39554.1 to indicate the area under the jurisdiction of the acceptance unit, and expands a code of "Other 99", which is compiled in accordance with Appendix B.
- e) Year identification, representing the year in which the recall information is released, which is represented by a 4-digit Arabic numeral.

Example 1: 2017 represents the recall information released in 2017 of the Gregorian calendar.

- f) Sequence number, which is given in the chronological order of the annual recall information release, and represented by a 4-digit Arabic numeral (0 001 ~ 9 999).

Example 2: For the second consumer product recall activity released in 2017 of the Gregorian calendar, where the recall type is voluntary recall, the consumer product type is household appliances and electrical accessories, and the acceptance unit is Beijing Municipal Administration for Market Regulation, the consumer product recall numbering is: CR V 02 11 2017 0002.

6 Numbering application

6.1 Recall management

6.1.1 The consumer product recall numbering shall be compiled uniformly by the national competent authority.

6.1.2 The consumer product recall numbering shall be marked in the published recall information.
